MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

SUBJECT: Draft Memorandum for the President, "Future Policy Toward Cuba"

- 1. I have had five copies of this memorandum made and have distributed one to DD/I and one to DD/P. Both are looking it over with a view to possible comment.
- 2. There is no Annex A and if there is to be one, CIA has the only competence to prepare it.
- 3. My immediate comment on the paper is that it is not a matter of extreme urgency and should be thoroughly staffed by all interested agencies prior to being submitted to the President. It certainly should not be a matter for substantive discussion on the basis of the several hours you and presumably the other senior advisers to the President have had to study it.

DRAFT

MEMORANLUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

SUBJECT: Future Policy toward Cuba

Policy

Our ultimate objective with respect to Cuba remains the overthrow of the Castro regime and its replacement by one sharing the aims of the Free World. Our immediate objectives are to weaken the regime; frustrate its subversive intentions; further reduce its influence in the Hemisphore; and increase the cost to the Bloc of sustaining the regime (or split the regime off from the Bloc).

A policy of containing, underwining, discrediting and isolating the Castro regime through the exercise of all feasible diplomatic economic, psychological and other pressures will achieve these immediate objectives and could create propitious conditions in Cuba for further advance toward our ultimate objective.

Courses of Action

The following overt* courses of action should be undertaken:

l. OAS action: condemning the Castro regime for its duplicity; extending the trade embargo to all items except for the program of covert actions, please see Annex A. Approved For Release 2003/01/29: CIA-RDP80B01676R001300040012-3 except foelstuffs, medicines and medical supplies; further limiting air and sea communications between the Hemisphere and Cuba; authorizing air and other surveillance; and warning Cuba against continued promotion of subversive and sabotage activities.

- through min isterial level meetings of the Caribbean countries for the purposes of reaching agreement on increasing the intensity of surveillance of coastal and international waters; increased surveillance and control of land boundaries; increased control over subversive activities within national boundaries; systematic exchange of intelligence information; and, development of procedures for coordination of military contingency planning for emergencies.
- 3. Application of the four-point shipping restrictions re Cuba.
- 4. Inclusion by NATO of Cuba on the list of countries to which shipsont of COCOM list (strategic) items is prohibited.
- 5. Dissussion of Free World industrial nations from shipping crucial spare parts and equipment to Cuba, not on the COCOM list.
- 6. Persuasion of non-Bloc nations to limit their airlines service to Cuba and to withhold transit rights to Soviet aircraft serving Cuba.

Approved For Release 2003/01/29 : CIA-RDP80B01 R001300040012-3

7. Persussion of Latin American nations to limit the travel of their nationals to Cuba and to intensify measures to prevent agents and groups of international communism from carrying on their subversive activities.

- 9. Maintenance of currently enhanced VOA medium wave facilities beamed to Cuba and adoption by VOA of a more aggressive line toward Cuba.
- 10. Facilitation of Cuban exiles' entry into the United States Armed Forces for training, and formation of reserve units thereafter.

Timing

We should surface our program of isolating and weakening Cuba when it becomes clear that our discussions on Cuba with the Soviets are unlikely to be fruitful. Actions with respect to Cuba which may contribute substantially to creating a situation calling for United States willtary action should be withheld until the Soviet combol units have been removed from Suba or efforts to persuade the USSR to remove them have failed.
